FLOOR DEBATE

January 30, 2002 LB 400

that's going to mean that next year we don't have to struggle as much, it would seem to me that we would want to do that, and...and I...and that's why I believe this is very, very important. Senator Baker said that if...

PRESIDENT HEINEMAN: Time.

SENATOR BROWN: ...that if there's some...thank you.

PRESIDENT HEINEMAN: Thank you, Senator Brown. Mr. Clerk.

CLERK: Mr. President, a priority motion. Senator Tyson would move to recommit the bill to the Health and Human Services Committee.

PRESIDENT HEINEMAN: Senator Tyson.

SENATOR TYSON: Thank you, Mr. President. Members of the body, we have gone over this bill to exhaustion last year and we might as well get ready to go over it to exhaustion this year. I do not know what is necessary to kill this bill. Two things come readily to mind: one, a wooden stake through its heart or a silver bullet; the second thing is let the sunlight shine on it and people will see it for what it is. This is another bit of busy work, the basis of which is that the people that have been doing this service to their fellow citizens in Nebraska are not competent to do so. They've been doing it now, in some cases, where they are working on, the same people are taking care of the children of the children they took care of. They do know how to do it. I think we have sufficient examples of where the state doesn't know how to do it, overregulates at costs to their...to the electorate of this state, to know that this is a bad bill. It does nothing to make it better. It just does something to make it worse. I'm not going to speak and reiterate all the things I talked about last year. Stop and take a moment, read the bill. Is this how we want our children taken care of? Is this how we want to regulate this business? This affects the small business people who are taking care of a limited number of children. It raises the barrier on what they can do and how they can do it and how they have to study on it. People in my area tell me that they have gone to some of these
